

Summer 2012 High Ability License Addition Distance Learning Courses

Online Courses: 3 graduate credits

May 14 – June 8	June 11 – August 3	June 11 – August 3
EDPS 54000 Gifted, Creative, and Talented Children Instructor: Rebecca L. Mann, Ph.D. This course is a study of the affective and psychosocial development of gifted students. The emphasis of this class is on developmental influences on academic performance. Students will be introduced to appropriate educational and counseling interventions for gifted students.	EDPS 54500 Social & Affective Development of Gifted Students Instructor: Vicki Vaughn, Ph.D. This course is a study of the affective and psychosocial development of gifted students. The emphasis of this class is on developmental influences on academic performance. Students will be introduced to appropriate educational and counseling interventions for gifted students. Recommended: EDPS 54000	EDPS 54200: Curriculum and Program Development in Gifted Education Instructor: Eric L. Mann, Ph.D. EDPS 54200 is an introduction to curricular materials, curriculum development, and programs for gifted, creative, and talented students. It focuses on the practical development of curriculum and programs for gifted students. Current research and theory is explored through practical curriculum projects, activities, and collaborative evaluation exercises. Prerequisite: EDPS 54000
Upcoming Fall and Spring courses	Fall: EDPS 54000 and 54200 online	Spring: EDPS 69500 online EDPS 54000 on campus

Class Details

- ★ Classes are not independent study courses, but interactive sessions with specific deadlines.
- ★ Class discussions take place asynchronously with your classmates and instructor, no need to be at your computer at a specific time during the week.
- ★ Access courses through Purdue University’s Blackboard Vista (log on information provided with tuition payment).
- ★ Technology needed: a computer with high-speed internet access and the most recent version of Internet Explorer (or another browser), email access, a word processing program (eg, Microsoft Word), Microsoft PowerPoint (or the free PowerPoint viewer available from Microsoft), and Adobe's PDF reader (available free from Adobe), comfort uploading and downloading attachments.
- ★ Courses are taught by GERI faculty
- ★ Tuition information - <https://www.continuinged.purdue.edu/distance/courses>
- ★ An evaluation by the Office of Professional Preparation and Licensing is needed upon enrollment ($35)

Registration information:

Register online at: <https://www.distance.purdue.edu/educators/courses/>

- ★ For information on online application and registration contact: Shari Beam – Program Assistant, Distance Learning Courses sbeam@purdue.edu
- ★ For information on the High Ability Licensure process or on campus courses contact: Rebecca L. Mann, PhD, rlmann@purdue.edu

The Indiana Department of Education offers partial tuition reimbursement on a first come, first served basis to qualified applicants. More information and an application are available at <http://www.doe.state.in.us/exceptional/gt/whatsnew.html>